

PERMISSIVE ACCESS

The local landowner has provided this useful circular walk which links up with the existing Public Right of Way. Ideal for either an early morning or evening stroll it affords views of the adjacent parkland associated with Little Everdon Hall. During your walk you may be lucky enough to see farmland birds such as the skylark, Tree Sparrow and Song Thrush.

This access has been provided under the Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs' farm conservation schemes as managed by Natural England, which help farmers and land managers protect and improve the countryside, its wildlife and history. It is permissive access and no new rights of way are being created. Existing rights of way are not affected. Please follow the Countryside Code and observe any other requirements shown above. Do not disturb wildlife, livestock or other visitors and in particular keep dogs under control. This is working farmland so please take care; people using this site do so at their own risk. Access ends on 31st August 2019.
